

SUPERHUMAN WITH AI

My identity experiment with stand-up

What one year of stand-up taught me about keeping humanity human

Ken Cox spent one year doing stand-up comedy with AI as his partner - and learned what it really means to keep humanity human in the age of machines.

STAGE PRESENCE

Real performance. New keynote.

THE HOUR SHOW

~45-minute keynote + 10-minute original stand-up close

WHAT THE ROOM TAKES HOME

A framework audiences can use Monday morning.

01 Loading Identity

Declare who you are becoming, then make choices that give the new identity somewhere to live.

02 The 12 Rounds

Every round is the same fight: positivity or negativity, love or fear, progress or deterioration.

03 AI as Partner

Use AI to hear patterns and amplify the work without giving it the final word.

04 The Mechanism

Super Why -> Armor -> War -> Amplify (IDEAS).

ABOUT KEN

Ken Cox is a St. Louis entrepreneur, author, host, comedian, and practical AI builder. His career spans internet infrastructure, business ownership, media, boxing, recovery, and creative production.

In one year he performed on hundreds of comedy stages while testing identity, creativity, and AI partnership in public.

CORPORATE AND ASSOCIATION PRICING

$10,000-$15,000

SUPERHUMAN WITH AI - the hour show

Workshops start at $15,000

IDEAS team exercises, 12 Rounds sessions, and half-day or full-day formats are scoped to the team and objectives. Travel is separate.

BOOK KEN

Tell me about the room.

Corporate and association bookings use the published bands above. Schools, gyms, recovery communities, and mission-aligned events are evaluated through a separate path.

kencox.com/#book-ken